

HELP MAKE GYMNASTICS A SAFER SPORT FOR EVERYONE

The Australian Human Rights Commission is conducting a review of the sport of gymnastics in Australia to inform better practice in gymnastics and to ensure athlete safety, wellbeing, and empowerment.

To do this, we want to hear from current and former members of the gymnastics community in Australia.

There are several ways you may be able to participate:

- You can attend a focus group via telephone or video conference
- You can attend an interview or video conference
- You can make a written submission online

Children and young people involved in Gymnastics are also encouraged to participate.

Participation is voluntary and confidential.

To participate, and for further information on the Review, please contact the Gymnastics in Australia Review Team at gymnastics@humanrights.gov.au or on 1800 314 621 or visit <https://humanrights.gov.au/gymnastics>.
